

Find Your Vocational Calling

Passion

Most career coaches and books will tell you to pursue your passion, but they have it terribly wrong. Pursuing your passion, although important, is just one piece of the puzzle. If you are passionate about something but can't make a living doing it, then it is just a hobby.

- What are you truly passionate about?
- What are the activities that tend to make you lose track of time?
- What did you dream of doing when you were a child?

Purpose

Your God-given purpose is really important in discovering, defining, and dedicating your life to work you love. When you find your purpose in life, you find a life full of more meaning and joy.

- What is your purpose?
- Do you have a personal mission statement?
- What are your strongest talents and abilities?

Prosperity

You should become prosperous when you find your vocational calling. You should be able to make a great living and provide for yourself and the needs of your family.

- Is there a market for your services?
- Can you make a living doing it, or is it just a hobby?
- Are you just getting a paycheck, or are you truly adding value to people's lives?

To find out more, and to enter a process of disciplined pursuit of your vocational calling, take a look at my coaching packages at grahamhoneycutt.com and select the one that works best for you.

Graham Honeycutt

